The emblem of the house of Judah (the scepter line) was a lion [Micah 5:8].

Per Deuteronomy 33:16-17, the emblem of the house of Ephraim/Israel (the birthright line) was a unicorn, wild ox or bull. The heraldry of The British Empire bears both of those symbols, as does some of its coinage. Many Bible scholars find it interesting that neither of them is associated with modern "Israel." But the LION of Judah and the UNICORN of Joseph-Ephraim are clearly associated with Great Britain. Interesting, too, is that the ARROWS and the OLIVE BRANCH of Joseph-Manasseh are featured on the Great Seal of the United States. Is there any wonder, then, that many Bible and History scholars think Biblical Israel is comprised, primarily, of the citizenry of the English-speaking so-called Christian nations?

And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

—Daniel 2:34,35,44

Does that sound to you like churchwork or like the work of nations, statesmen and military strategists that enjoy the benefit of divine guidance? If the latter, the timing of it should coincide with the end of Ephraim-Israel's "seven times" punishment. Let's take a snapshot!

Anglo-Saxon Israel began the most aggressive territorial expansion in history during that era. Quoting, again, from Mr. Dickey's One Man's Destiny:

"[Great Britain's] expansion took place in the exact order stated to Jacob: westward first from Palestine, across Europe to the British Isles; then on west in the seventeenth century to America; in the same century India was acquired in the east; Canada, the northernmost section of the British Empire, was taken from the French in the eighteenth century; then in the nineteenth century Britain colonized Australia, New Zealand and South Africa."

Should our rapture experts start doing some real homework?

From #rap-3—

Could it be Human (the Sin) Nature that prompts the rapture experts to prefer the wording at Matthew 24:32 and Mark 13: 28 to that of Luke 21: 29, because they really, really want that fig tree to represent the modern nation of Israel?

The following is quoted from Tamar Tephi: or The Maid of Destiny (1924):

"No more remarkable manifestations of the exact fulfillment of the Divine Decrees, as promulgated in the Holy Scriptures, have ever been presented to mankind during the whole course of recorded history than those displayed in The Almighty's Providential dealings with the peoples dwelling on these 'Isles which are beyond the Sea' (Jeremiah 25:22).

"In every phase of British History, and especially in the marvelous perpetuation of the Royal Line of our Sovereigns — all of whom, with but few exceptions,

I am persuaded, have been and now are of 'The House and Lineage of David,' and consequently 'Children of the Stock of Abraham' (Luke 2:4; Acts 13:26) we can trace unmistakable evidences showing 'The good Hand of our God upon us' (Ezra 7:9), ordering and directing the National Affairs according to His Will and Pleasure, in pursuance of His vast designs concerning 'The remnant of His people, the Outcasts of Israel and the dispersed of Judah in the Isles afar off...which shall declare His glory among the nations' (Isaiah 11:11-12; 66:19). And 'foolish, and slow of heart to believe' must he or she be who cannot discern and gratefully acknowledge this gracious and beneficent supervision of Britain's destinies, and look forward to the still greater glories promised to the 'Lost sheep of the House of Israel' (Luke 24: 25; Matthew 15:24)."

Adam Rutherford's Anglo-Saxon Israel, or Israel-Britain (1939) may be a good read for you, too. It explains the origin, function and destiny of the Norse-Anglo-Celto-Saxon race in the British empire, U.S.A., Holland, Scandinavia & Iceland.

"The tragedy of Protestant Christianity today is that men can't find the kingdom. It is still a mystery to them. They look for it in their hearts, in heaven, and everywhere in God's universe except in the midst of their national existence."

—One Man's Destiny,
C. R. Dickey (1942)

— from the same book —

"People who refuse to see a continuation of Israel in the English speaking nations are like a man who, after looking at the Rocky Mountains, demands proof that they are mountains."

Is it possible that our rapture experts are so busy competing with one another for greater "itching ears" market shares that they just don't get it?
